FOREWORD

Welcome to a mouth-watering selection of truly extra ordinary modern books from Heywood Hill, the biggest little bookshop in the world.

Our role is to introduce the finest publications to you. All of the new and not so new titles in this catalogue mix artistic ambition with high style.

We are thrilled to celebrate the publishers and writers, the artists and photographers, who have brought these projects to such splendid and tangible fruition.

Our busy London bookshop is a small part of what we do. As well as some extra ordinary books, in this catalogue you will also find more information about our tailored bookselling services: the formed collections we sell, the private libraries we assemble, and the personal bookselling we carry out for clients worldwide.

Heywood Hill, with a deep bow, is at your service.

CHATSWORTH

Deluxe facsimile of the Sixth Duke of Devonshire's illustrated Handbook of Chatsworth.

In 1844, William Cavendish privately published a first-person account of “every room and corner” of Chatsworth for his family and friends.

Stoker Devonshire, the 12th Duke, published a facsimile edition for the Roxburghe Club edited by architectural historian, John Martin Robinson.

Twelve copies from a deluxe edition in a special binding, housed in a cloth box and signed by Stoker Devonshire are now available to purchase exclusively from Heywood Hill.

SHAKESPEARE

The 400th anniversary facsimile edition of William Shakespeare's First Folio, the greatest book in English literature.

Published in 1623, the First Folio is the most comprehensive record of WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE'S plays.

The British Library has produced this exquisite, full-size, slip-cased facsimile based on the most complete First Folio in its collection.

The result is a powerfully evocative object for anyone who admires Shakespeare.

GORMLEY/
TÓIBÍN

© Antony Gormley

A collaboration between an innovative publisher and two celebrated creative souls, Antony Gormley and Colm Tóibín.

In the fine tradition of the livre d'artiste, this alluring book is a reflection on the drama of the natural world and its impact on memory.

ANTONY GORMLEY'S delicate ink drawings sit alongside COLM TÓIBÍN'S deeply poetic story.

WEATHER is beautifully published in a signed numbered edition of 75 deluxe copies, each with a signed original etching by Gormley.

The definitive photographic depiction of Florence's Cathedral, Bell Tower and Baptistry in three exquisite limited edition folios, exclusively from Heywood Hill.

FLORENCE: DAWN AND TRIUMPH OF THE RENAISSANCE captures at 1:1 scale the cultural heart of Florence in a spectacular new way.

The first volume, THE BRUNELLESCHI'S DOME, reveals the entire pictorial cycle of the Dome, frescoed by Giorgio Vasari and Federico Zuccari. Intricate photography shot over five years exposes the brushstrokes of the frescoes.

One of the great publishing projects of the 2020s, THE BRUNELLESCHI'S DOME is available now and THE CATHEDRAL AND BELL TOWER and THE BAPTISTRY
OF SAINT JOHN will be published in 2024 and 2025.

Each copy is sold as a set. Individual volumes are not available separately. Payment can be made for each volume when published or in advance in full to receive a 10% discount.

An exclusive tour of the Cathedral complex is included.

THE SISTINE CHAPEL

All images © Governatorato dello S.C.V. - Direzione dei Musei. All rights reserved

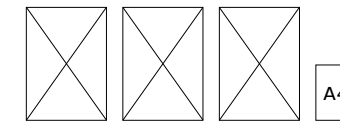

The greatest photographic survey of the Sistine Chapel across three breathtaking volumes.

A comprehensive close-up view of the papal chapel at 1:1 scale captures the 15th century frescoes, the Ceiling and the Last Judgement in unprecedented detail.

Photographers spent 65 nights shooting 270,000 digital images now stitched together to reveal the frescoes by Michelangelo and other masters.

This epic publishing mission began in 2016 when the first copy was presented to His Holiness the Pope. Only a handful of copies from the limited edition remain, exclusively available from Heywood Hill.

An after hours tour of the Sistine Chapel is included.

Truman Capote's most famous novel, In Cold Blood, is published by Éditions des Saints Pères in facsimile manuscript for the first time.

Handwritten notes, official documents, letter exchanges and sketches reveal TRUMAN CAPOTE's artistic approach, including his desire to write only on the right-hand-side of his notebook.

The author's precise handwriting reveals how he drafted and edited key scenes of his pioneering true crime novel.

Previously unpublished working notes, hypotheses on the crime and plans of the Clutter family property, capture the writer's extensive investigative methods.

NEW YORK

British artist Leslie Gerry travels the world to observe, sketch and gather reference material for his dynamic digital paintings, presented here in both Deluxe and Standard editions.

Standard edition

A beautiful portrait of New York captured using Leslie Gerry's innovative digital approach.

Twenty-four extraordinarily vibrant images document this great city in high style. The rich visuals are enhanced by extracts from Jan Morris's 1987 book, MANHATTAN '45.

The large-scale deluxe edition comes in a leather quarter-bound solander box with a portfolio of 10 large, signed prints.

A new book celebrates the British coastline in all its wild and picturesque beauty.

Inspired by landscape and marine painter William Daniell's voyages begun in 1813, LESLIE GERRY created these images in 2021 and 2022.

Today's coastline is revealed in 42 wonderful paintings, alongside text by Daniell and his fellow traveller Richard Ayton.

This deluxe edition sits in a solander canvas-covered box, alongside a metal print of the Waverley, the famous paddle steamer on the Clyde.

ROYAL REBEL

An illustrated memoir depicting the glamorous life of a royal rebel, Prince Michael of Greece and Denmark.

A first cousin of the late Duke of Edinburgh, these photographs reveal the private life of a royal bohemian. Images from formal engagements with Queen Elizabeth II sit alongside parties attended by Andy Warhol and Mick Jagger. Published in a slipcase with gold stamping and marbled papers, the book is inspired by the Prince’s original photo albums preserved in Athens. A limited number will include a bookplate signed by the Prince.

McCULLIN

Ruins of the Roman Empire in Western Turkey documented by legendary photographer Don McCullin, introduced by Barnaby Rogerson.

Over three recent journeys, the photographer hunts out the most haunting and powerful relics of the Roman Empire. McCullin captures pavements once trodden by Aristotle, Alexander the Great, Julius Caesar, St Paul and the Emperor Hadrian. Developing his rolls of black and white film by hand, McCullin produces utterly captivating results.

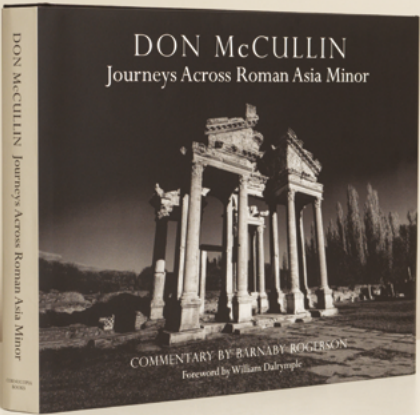

“Photography for me is not looking, it’s feeling. If you can’t feel what you’re looking at, then you’re never going to get others to feel anything when they look at your pictures.”

POLAR

One of the most stunning photographic books ever published on the North and South Poles.

Recorded over 30 years,
magnificent photographs and stories document
Danie Ferreira's expeditions to both Poles.

Combining white space, double page spreads and hand-drawn notes, the book's design emulates the experience of being an explorer in the region.

The striking two-volume set is housed in a spectacular illustrated box. The hand-crafted books are bound in silk to mimic glacial shimmer. Each contains a page stamped and certified at the Poles.

Ferreira's passion for Antarctica began with his first trip in 1983 as a meteorological observer. Ever since, he has been "chasing ice" and his records are coupled with a sense of loss as habitats diminish.

Honouring John Steinbeck's landmark 1940 voyage, Sea of Cortez is a gorgeously evocative private press book.

Travelling together to investigate the Gulf of California, JOHN STEINBECK and marine biologist EDWARD F. RICKETTS created a fascinating journal that is part scientific study, part philosophical and spiritual exploration.

Illustrated by renowned wood engraver Richard Wagener, the stunning volume includes six engravings that resonate with Steinbeck's observations.

The limited edition is imprinted with a starfish motif derived from Wagener and titling imprinted on wood veneer reclaimed from the Western Flyer, the vessel on which the two men travelled.

Artist Ed Ruscha contemplates the legacy of Jack Kerouac's classic novel.

An unforgettable artist's book from the Gagosian Gallery which blends the languages of literature and photography.

JACK KEROUAC'S novel, ON THE ROAD, is printed alongside black and white photographic illustrations taken or commissioned by ED RUSCHA.

Ruscha selects images that refer to the details and impressions that Kerouac describes. Each copy is signed by the artist and presented in a slipcase.

Ruscha's fascination with the urban environment of America makes him the perfect artist to respond to Kerouac's compulsive road trip with its endless twists and turns.

"The original novel was published in 1957 and it's about a group of crazy young people who just travel back and forth across the United States. Sometimes they hitchhike and sometimes they drive cars. They steal cars and just want to be on the road the whole time. I've always liked that notion."

TAILORED BOOKSELLING

Welcome to Heywood Hill's range of tailored bookselling services. Since 1936, our style has been to get to know our clients personally and then to respond to their bookish needs individually, always with courtesy and hopefully some good cheer.

"For bibliophiles, heaven is a shop called Heywood Hill"

— Vanity Fair

PRIVATE & CORPORATE LIBRARIES

“There is no greater luxury than a bespoke library from Heywood Hill”

— Vogue

Image: Vincent Leroux

For almost 90 years, Heywood Hill has helped readers and collectors establish and develop their own private libraries. Today we have a dedicated Libraries Department with a talented team of versatile booksellers.

Would you like a bespoke library from Heywood Hill?

Tailored Libraries

We assemble libraries on a huge variety of subjects, reflecting our clients' individual interests from the general (“fill my house with only good books”) to the more specific (“the history of capitalism: the good, the bad and the ugly”).

Our service was inspired by Andrew, 11th Duke of Devonshire who commissioned a library from Heywood Hill on the broad but fascinating subject of Ireland, in all its history, topography and culture.

Each year we work on around 25 different private or corporate projects across the world, varying in scale from a single bookcase to multi-room libraries. Recent work has included ‘the history of European exploration of Africa’, for a home in New York, ‘the history of the Enlightenment’, for a house in France and a ‘biographical library of people who have changed the world’, for a house in the UK.

We listen to our clients and find out what they want to achieve. Are they readers or collectors? Is the library a sanctuary or a space to be shared? What interests should we amplify? What subjects should we avoid? We find out what makes our clients tick.

Image: Paul Massey for Nicola Harding & Co

Our skill is to source the books that we know our clients will enjoy in the right edition and condition for their budget. We scour the world for appealing books for our projects; not just new titles but those which span the centuries. We blend the newly published with the long out-of-print, the fresh material with something fine and scarce.

This small selection reveals the variety of libraries that we have assembled:

THE HISTORY OF MODERNISM
(3,500 VOLUMES)

THE CARIBBEAN: ITS HISTORY, CULTURE AND PEOPLE
(300 VOLUMES)

CREATIVE RESPONSES TO THE NATURAL WORLD
(2,500 VOLUMES)

COMBAT AVIATION MEMOIRS
(2,000 VOLUMES)

WORLD CHANGERS: A BIOGRAPHICAL LIBRARY
(500 VOLUMES)

THE GREAT AMERICAN NOVEL
(300 VOLUMES)

CIRCLES OF INTEREST: PHILOSOPHICAL MOVEMENTS AND THEIR IMPACT
(400 VOLUMES)

BOOKS EVERY INTELLIGENT TEENAGER SHOULD READ
(300 VOLUMES)

FORMED COLLECTIONS

Book collectors are interesting people. It takes years if not decades of dedicated pursuit to amass a fine collection of books focused on a particular subject. We find new homes for existing subject-specific book collections.

Collecting books in any serious way involves a huge amount of effort, time and money. (See our Personal Bookselling page for more details on how to collect books through Heywood Hill.) Motivations vary but collectors are often driven by a devotion to a subject bordering on love and sometimes approaching obsession. Many would like their efforts to be taken on by another or cannot bear to see their shelves broken up at auction. This is where we come in.

We advise collectors or their heirs on what to do with a good book collection in need of new life or a new home. Owners consign worldclass collections to us. We broker the sale of collections of books between private sellers and our worldwide network of private or institutional buyers.

Here are details of four formed collections currently for sale.

Helmut Friedlaender's Baedeker Collection

Helmut Friedlaender (1913-2008) was a sophisticated and eclectic bibliophile, whose passions included literature, science and law and Hebraica. He served on the Council of Fellows of the Morgan Library and was awarded the Bodleian Medal from the Bodleian Library of the University of Oxford.

Despite selling his collection at Christie's in 2001, he continued to indulge in his passion for books, particularly for Baedeker travel guides of which he amassed a large collection, including many of the rarest editions. Karl Baedeker was a German publisher who produced informative guidebooks in German, French and English that set a standard for tourism across Europe and the Middle East. Close to 1,000 Baedeker volumes in their handsome tan or red cloth bindings are offered here.

£150,000

The Phil Martin Association Football Collection

Over many decades Phil Martin has created the finest private collection of books and other material on football in the world. This comprises well over 5,000 printed books and related material covering the overall history of the game, club histories, biographies of players, managers and administrators, Boy's Annuals, reference books and football in fiction and poetry; around 600 brochures and booklets; 1,500 directories and handbooks; photographs, magazines and cards; antique prints and sound recordings. Over 10,000 items in all.

£675,000

The Peter Day Collection: THE ROOTS AND RISE OF POPULAR MUSIC

Formed over a period of 50 years, this fascinating collection traces the history of popular music, in all its forms and many genres, through the emerging mass markets and media of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. Peter Day is a retired rare books librarian and archivist. His lifelong passion for the roots and flowerings of popular music have led him to amass a wide-ranging collection of over 3,350 volumes.

£150,000

The working library of Christopher Lloyd

Christopher Lloyd is an acclaimed art historian. He worked in the Department of Western Art in the Ashmolean Museum in Oxford for twenty years before being appointed Surveyor of the Queen's Pictures in 1988, a post he held until 2005. His working library consists of over 700 volumes devoted to art, with a particular emphasis on the Impressionists and Post-Impressionists.

PERSONAL BOOKSELLING

Everyone should have a Heywood Hill personal bookseller in their lives. Our talented team of professional booksellers all share a devotion to mind-furnishing books.

We offer a courteous, knowledgeable and responsive service whether you are a collector, a reader or a giver of books. Regular clients often have a dedicated bookseller at Heywood Hill who know their interests and can look after all their book buying and giving requirements.

Collecting Books

If you are interested in collecting rare books on a particular subject or period then Heywood Hill can help. We can tailor the most affordable approach depending on the scope and scale of your collecting ambition.

Lifetime of Reading

Give someone you love a lifetime of reading and also a lifelong connection to Heywood Hill by setting up a private client account for them. One customer did this for a son. It changed his life.

Some graduating students dream of sports cars, William Archer – Heywood Hill customer of 30 years certainly did – but on his graduation his father had more expansive gift ideas.

“He gave me an address in Mayfair,” explains William. “He told me: ‘There’s no limit, you can order anything you want.’ When I got to the address, I found Heywood Hill and a world of ideas. I have since received three decades of unlimited reading pleasure. For any book that I fancied I could charge to my father’s account – no eyebrows raised, no questions asked.”

William’s own son will soon turn 21 and he too dreams of cars, but William already knows what to say: “Go to 10 Curzon Street, order what you will and send me the bill.”

Tailored Gift Box

Give or receive a box or more of good books, beautifully wrapped and tailored to your taste by one of our talented team.

At the heart of this service is an in-depth but fun reading consultation in the shop or over the telephone. We find out your likes and dislikes and hand-pick books we know you will enjoy. If giving a Tailored Gift Box to someone else, the experience begins with a hand-written personal message on our stylish illustrated postcards and an invitation to arrange a reading consultation with us. Or if you prefer to surprise someone, you can tell us about their reading tastes and we will do the rest. This is the perfect gift for book-lovers of all ages and for any occasion. We ship worldwide.
